Melbourne, Australia

IceFire Technologies Pty Ltd and SecureWorx Pty Ltd of Victoria today announced the signature of a strategic partnership agreement between the companies.

The companies have agreed to combine their consulting and technology experience in order to offer a mature solution to Government and Corporate markets nationwide. The combination of skills as well as experience of the two companies will enable successful projects to be delivered rapidly.

Combining these two powerful entities will create a dominant force in the ICT & Security sectors.

The market has demanded a focused solution provider that is able to deliver end-to-end solutions from Identity and Workload Management through to Asset and Configuration Management.

Philip Mulley CEO of SecureWorx believes that:

“This relationship will bring new energy and a wealth of experience to a market that has been under serviced”

Chris Cleator CEO of IceFire Technologies affirms:

“ We are excited about our ability to now offer a complete service to both the Government and the Corporate sectors.”
